6 Unlawful Conduct

6.1 Under the Relevant Laws and this policy, the following types of conduct are unlawful and strictly prohibited at the School:

Unlawful Conduct	Explanation and Examples
Bullying	Explanation: Bullying is repeated, unreasonable behaviour directed towards an individual or group that creates a risk to health and safety.

	Unreasonable behaviour means behaviour that a reasonable person, having regard to all the circumstances, would expect to victimise, humiliate, intimidate or threaten. Bullying does not necessarily need to be based on a protected attribute. A one off incident is usually not bullying. There is no requirement that the person deliberately or intentionally bully the person, however, intention may be relevant in assessing the severity off the conduct. Examples: Some examples of behaviour that may be considered bullying, if it is unreasonable, repeated and creates a risk to health and safety, include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• initiation rituals or practical jokes;</li> <li>• abusive, insulting or offensive language or comments;</li> <li>• unjustified criticism / complaints or excessive scrutiny;</li> <li>• withholding information that is vital for effective work or educational performance</li> <li>• deliberately excluding persons from discussions, events or meetings;</li> <li>• spreading misinformation or rumours.</li> </ul> Reasonable management action taken in a reasonable way is not bullying. Reasonable management action may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• giving directions and allocating work or study in accordance with business or educational needs;</li> <li>• counselling about unsatisfactory performance or conduct when undertaken in a reasonable manner;</li> <li>• setting reasonable performance goals, expectations or deadlines;</li> <li>• rostering and allocating work or study loads where the requirements are reasonable;</li> <li>• implementing organisational changes or restructuring; or</li> <li>• informing an individual about inappropriate behaviour in an objective and confidential way.</li> </ul>
Discrimination and Harassment	Explanation: Discrimination is treating or proposing to treat an individual or a group unfavorably because they have a protected attribute. Discrimination can be direct or indirect: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Direct discrimination can occur when a person or group is treated less favourably than another person or group in a similar situation, because of a protected attribute.</li> <li>• Indirect discrimination involves imposing a requirement, condition or practice that operates to disadvantage a person or group with a protected attribute, and that is not reasonable.</li> </ul> Harassment is unwelcome conduct that might reasonably cause a person to be offended, humiliated or intimidated because they have a protected attribute. Harassment can also happen if someone is working in an environment permeated by conduct or activities that make it hostile or intimidating. The behaviour can be overt or subtle, verbal, non-verbal or physical. Examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Failing to offer training to an older person because of an assumption that they will retire soon;</li> <li>• Failing to enroll or give a promotion to a female employee because she has children or is pregnant;</li> <li>• Racial or culturally insensitive jokes or racial nicknames;</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Commenting on an individual's physical appearance;</li> <li>• Offensive comments about a person's sexuality;</li> <li>• Teasing a person about their disability; or</li> <li>• Excluding or isolating a person because of their religion.</li> </ul>
Sexual Harassment	Explanation: Sexual harassment is an unwelcome sexual advance, unwelcome request for sexual favours or other unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature which makes a person feel humiliated and/or intimidated, where a reasonable person would anticipate that reaction in the circumstances. Examples: Sexual harassment can be physical or nonphysical. Examples include <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Physical contact, such as pinching, touching, grabbing, kissing or hugging;</li> <li>• Sexual assault;</li> <li>• Staring or leering at a person or at parts of their body;</li> <li>• Persistent request to go out where they are refused;</li> <li>• Suggestive comments about a person's body or appearance;</li> <li>• Sexual jokes or comments, sexually explicit conversations;</li> <li>• Displays of offensive material such as posters, screen savers, internet material etc.;</li> <li>• Accessing or downloading sexually explicit or inappropriate material from the internet;</li> <li>• Sending rude or offensive emails, attachments or text messages;</li> <li>• Advances on email, social networking websites or internet chat rooms; or</li> <li>• Sexually explicit gifts e.g. 'Kris kringle' gifts.</li> </ul>
Victimisation	Explanation: Victimisation means treating someone unfairly because they have acted on their rights under equal opportunity law or because they have supported someone else who acted upon those rights. Examples: Examples of Victimisation include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• excluding or isolating a person because they have lodged a complaint; or</li> <li>• failing to promote a person because they have lodged a complaint</li> </ul>
Vilification	Explanation: Vilification means any form of conduct that includes hatred against, serious contempt for, or revulsion or serve ridicule of a person or group of people because of a protected attribute and mainly: race, religious belief, sex, gender identity, gender expression, sexuality and intersex status, disability or HIV/AIDS status. Examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Sending a group/staff email containing a highly offensive racial joke;</li> <li>• Making derogatory comments about a gay, lesbian, bisexual or transgender employee in a group of employees; or</li> <li>• Inciting any contempt, hatred or ridicule towards any person.</li> </ul>
